Not so long ago a number of lock many burrs of this size that have as many boxes of this kind as there are right here in Vulcan.

P. Burns & Co., completed arrange-Officially the curling season closed on March 6 at Vulcan, but with the return of a spell of winter weather the enthusiasts are pulling off a club bonspiel that is going with real pep, and a stack of prizes for the event are on display in a down town window.

Live hogs were delivered at Vulcan on Wednesday for shipment by Mr.
Fred Bilton and the Co-Op. This is almost a regular weekly occurrence, but the difference this time is the price received by the farmers, being eleven cents, the highest in a good many months.

Mr. David Wylie has leased from Mr. George Coville his well known dairy farm of three quarters, situated ten or twelve miles from Vulcan. The deal includes not less than twenty head of Holstein cattle, the animals which have given this farm the splendid reputation which it possesses.

From the provincial office of the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire comes an enquiry as to the organization of a chapter in Vulcan. The work of the order is that of developing a spirit of patriotism, fostering a love of their country in children, and making our own locality a better place to live in, and ask nothing but an opportunity to give service.

From what we can learn there will be an enormous tourist traffic this year from the States. It is estimated that the average American car touring here spends at least $20 per day. It will be good business on the part of civic authorities to arrange for these tourists, suitable auto camps where they can park their cars and stop a day or a month if they so desire.

"Millionaire shipping points" is the heading of the latest C. P. R. wheat shipping report for Southern Alberta given to the press, and it is a matter of pride locally that Vulcan stands again at the top with a very considerable lead. The shipments thus far from Vulcan reaching the splendid total of 1,135,000 bushels. And the grain is not all shipped yet, by a long ways.

The Advocate man has been permitted to see the building plans of the new flour mill at Vulcan. It will be a mill of some size, properly appointed and equipped, and with an elevator capacity of more than eight thousand bushels. Besides these there will be a storage room of large capacity. Material is being placed on the site and building operations will commence as soon as weather conditions permit.

Since the report of the purchase of so many flags for street decoration, it has been suggested that when the scheme has been completed that it be inaugurated with what might be termed a "flag day." This could take the form of a short public ceremonial when the street flags are first displayed, and then their could be a flag raising on the fine high pole at the new playground park.

Though the attendance at the last dance at the rink was not large, the delight and enthusiasm of those present has prompted the putting on of under the direction of the Vulcan band by whom the music will be furnished, and the dancing is from nine to midnight. Put on a pair of rubbers or Bobby Quinton, centre man of the Vulcan hockey team and star of the league, went up to Okotoks on Monday night to see his old home town team in the game against Ponoka in the play-down of the intermediate provincial championship. Okotoks won the game, but Ponoka won the series by the narrow margin of one goal, thus eliminating the Wheat Belt representatives. The hockey season has been good in this league, and the other teams will not complain of the showing made by Okotoks, for it is not reasonable to expect to win a provincial championship every year.

The Good Deeds Women's Institute have the right idea. Yearly they ob-public schools which are in the area of the operation of the Good Deeds institute, delivering to the pupils of each a message of encouragement in their work and studies, and bearing to them gifts and sweets and other good-things to eat. This makes the hearts of the teachers and pupils glad and exemplifies the spirit by which the institute truly maintains its name.

Mr. Fred Simington is in Calgary this week for a couple of days attend-gram provides for much business and plenty of entertainment, and the sessions and official banquet will take place at the Palliser.

Music hath charms to take people from Vulcan to Calgary. Mr. and Mrs.
Geo. Whicher attended the recent recital of the famous pianist, Rachmaninoff, and Constable Davies and wife, being Welsh, attended a musical event under the auspices of a Welsh organization in the city.

Mr. R. J. Mond's has sold his residence property in Vulcan to Mr. Ed.
Arney, and the new owner will be giving possession this week. This means the addition of another family to the population of the town, and of the kind that will be welcomed. Mr. and Mrs. Mond will remain in town.

There came a house into town on skids on Tuesday from somewhere out in the country. Mr. Pete Beardsley will put the building on a good foundation, enlarge and improve the same to the extent of making of it an attractive and comfortable dwelling, thus helping to provide for house demand.

Some confectionery manufacturing firm at Alberta capital has made the request for photos of the Vulcan 1924 baseball team, and the same have been supplied, and before long we will likely be buying chocolate bars with pictures of "Si" Billy Reesor, Roy Ferguson and the rest of the gang. They will then indeed be candy kids.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson are back to Vulcan after a week or two spent in High River, and Jack describes as interesting the big horse sale in that town, which can easily be understood as such when five hundred and forty-eight horses are assembled for sale by public auction. The fine big rink at High River was utilized as the auction place.

Send Diogenes around, for we have found the man he was looking for.
Some short time ago The Advocate man lost a five dollar bill—Seldom a possibility to a printer. It might have been lost anywhere. The fact was mentioned in some of the places the loser had been. Early next day a phone from the C.P.R. station staff announced the finding of the missing bill, which had been paid by mistake when a purchase had been made at the wicket. It was fine to get the money back, but more do we appreciate the honesty responsible for its return.

The meeting of the Vulcan Women's Institute, held at the home of Mrs.
Monds on March 6th, was a real success, a large number of ladies being present and several new members enrolled. A pleasant and busy afternoon was spent by all in making arrangements for the millinery demonstration in the Anglican Church basement on March 9, 10 and 11. Dr. Carson gave a real good talk on contagious diseases and better health. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostesses, Mrs. Monds and Mrs. Craig. The next meeting will be held in April at the home of Mrs. Lambert, date and details to be announced later.

Now that hockey is passed and the winter about gone, the conversation in some quarters turns to baseball, the discussion being the more interesting because of the report that down in Champion, our neighbor, they are saying little but doing much to frame up a real team. It is the rivalry of towns that makes interest in sport, and surely Vulcan will not stand by and let the other places pass us. In this connection mention might be made of the luck of having a couple of ball players come to Vulcan just lately. The organization of a club should not be left until late, as the consequences of delay have been bad in other years. Mention of baseball brings memory of Reg Carruthers, one of the cleverest young pitchers, who was with Vulcan two years ago, and to many it has not been known that this young man died in the east last summer.

ery barn, in Vulcan, Chris Christian-son's bunch of horses will be sold, and J. Shaw, of Lomond, will also sell his entire farm outfit. Selling on this occasion will commence at eleven o'clock.

The snooker tournament, which has been an interesting local event, has been finally completed by Charlie Robson and Russ. Robson playing off for second and third place, and they finished in the order named. As before reported Eddie Love finished in first place.

The location of the Vets' club in Vulcan is now designated by an attractive sign, made and decorated in the design of the button worn by the boys.
The sign is the handiwork of Comrade George Staples, and is a credit to his workmanship and a decoration to the club premises.

It is noted in the Calgary papers that the exhibition board is negotiating with "Slim" Moorehouse, of Vulcan "big team" fame, for a bigger team and a bigger outfit as an attraction at the coming exhibition. But as the showman would say, the only and original big team was that which "Slim" drove into Vulcan two years ago.

Among the many who have returned to Vulcan after the winter spent away is Mr. E. J. Fortier, and the members of the family, who were east to Massachusetts, and one of the interesting incidents of the visit was the witnessing of the eclipse of the sun and watching the manoeuvres of photographers in places and balloons making the effort to get pictures of the solar event.

Municipal elections hereabouts this year have been rather quiet affairs, so much so that the one in Royal almost missed mention. However, there was a contest in Division 5 which created considerable interest and resulted in the return of Mr. Alex. Smith. Mr.
Floyd Atkinson was elected for Division 3 by acclamation on nomination day, and with the two named the Council this year will be composed of T. J. Parker, Division 4; Jake Eamor, Division 6; W. B. Jamison, Division 2; H. Lundgren, Division 1. There has not yet been a meeting of this council, possibly because of the serious illness of Mr. Parker, who was Reeve last year, and has been for some time in the hospital at Calgary.

The Advocate man met "Billy" Mc-Kenzie on Tuesday, his first time down town since breaking his ankle some time ago. Delighted with the progress he is making and the joy of being about again, even if it is on crutches, he enthusiastically gave credit to Dr. Blaney, for the excellence of his professional services and his kindness in treatment, praised the Municipal hospital and staff at High River, and gratefully mentioned the concern and interest manifested by the many. It was good to hear such an expression of appreciation, and appreciation is the finest reward to those who have rendered service, and all will be pleased that the best has been made of an unfortunate occurrence and that Mr. McKenzie will in a short time be one hundred per cent again.

Married, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Allan, by Rev. Mr. Brunton, on Saturday, March 7th, Mr.
George Cameron and Miss Lillian Carter. The principals in this event are former residents and highly esteemed in Vulcan, the former having been employed with Mr. King in the drug business and the latter was for some years on the public school teaching staff. This otherwise happy event, which was to have taken place this week, was shadowed by the sudden death of the bride's mother, whom she left in good health in the east but a week or so ago when coming west in the glad anticipation of this most important event. It would seem that misfortune was attending the young couple, for the marriage was delayed before by fire which destroyed the store and stock of a drug business at Delburne owned and operated by Mr.
Cameron. However, the hope and desire of many friends is that the dark days of the Mr. and Mrs. Cameron are over, and to them with sympathy goes the best wishes for a long and happy wedded life, made so by health, wealth and contentment.

NATURAL RESOURCES

The people of Alberta have received with satisfaction the announcement that an agreement has been come to with the Dominion Government for the transfer to the province of the natural resources. The subsidy from the Dominion Government will continue for three years, after which it will cease. The terms of the agreement do not call for much comment. They will probably involve at first at least a loss rather than a gain to the province financially, but they seem fair enough, and in any event the essential thing was to get the question settled and the resources handed over without further delay or haggling. Having at last got the resources, if now lies with the Government to make the best possible use of them. The transfer will mean presumably a permanent increase in the provincial civil service, and it is hoped that the Alberta Government will at once make it clear that merit and duly ascertained qualifications alone are to be the basis of recruitment of that civil service, and that political patronage is to be definitely relegated to a discredited oblivion. Competitive examinations under the control of independent examiners wholly free from political influence should be the one and only method of recruiting the civil service from the highest to the lowest, and there should be no room whatever for the appointment of political hangers-on to posts for which they have no preliminary qualification and in which they either depend on their lower paid subordinates to do the work or acquire a knowledge of it slowly, painfully, and at the expense of the long-suffering public. As far as the actual development of the resources, and their use are concerned, the main thing required is common honesty, which will prevent their being handed over to favoured individuals or corporations at inadequate prices. In that respect the present government's record is good. Its handling of the liquor control business, for instance, bears all the appearance of a real effort to put the public interest before everything else and ignore political patronage. Even the official Opposition have not been able seriously to suggest anything to the discredit of the Government's honesty, and the rank and file of the Government's supporters in the Legislature seem to be healthily on the alert to prevent anything being done which is not straightforward. It is a pity that there are not more signs of constructive initiative on the part of the Government, which should enable them to make use of the transferred resources to put fresh vigor into the whole life of the province. Possibly the taking over of the resources may lead to the growth of such initiative. The present state of business conditions seem to need it urgently.

D. H. Rice, freshman of the Alberta University, who refused to comply with absurd demands on the part of sophomores of the University, by shaving a "V" on the back of his head, wearing a tight skull cap, and rolling his trousers a foot above the boots, and who was dismissed from the University, has caused the matter to be aired in the legislature and it would appear as if he will succeed in causing a reformation in that institution. The foolish hazing habit and other indignities offered to freshmen should have been discouraged long ago, and it is possible that the present case will do much to clear the situation for freshmen who go to the University.

This seems to be the right time for Chiropodists to give the backbone of winter a much-needed mauling.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

That the small town weekly newspaper is coming into its own and is gradually being recognized as the popular medium for good and wholesome news as well as advantageous advertising is evidenced by the growing admissions of some of the large city dailies who are adopting the town weeklies practice of introducing in their columns more of the "pleasant and personal" elements in an endeavor to overcome the "blood and thunder" elements which are the feature items of news in the first pages of their daily issues. The Seattle Star is one of the large newspapers to initiate this service and attributes the origin of the idea to the small town weekly. Dr. Suzzallo, president of the University of Washington, states that "the youth of the country cannot be taught in the public school, the ideals necessary for the preservation of the government; our schools do not hold the youth of the country long enough to exert upon them this needed influence. This work is to be done by the one great moulder of public opinion, the country newspaper, which is unique in this field." The editors of the small town weeklies are thus experiencing the satisfaction of seeing their policies of clean news of general, personal and local, being recognized and gradually adopted by the large city dailies, in an effort to make their publications more popular and their circulation larger. The telegraphic columns of many large dailies, depicting as they do, the horrible and bloodcurdling events of the days doing throughout the world, is anything but elevating to the younger minds of the country, and instills in them the desires for adventure along unworthy lines. It looks as if the millennium, in this respect, has been reached and that from now onward, a return to sane, clean and readable news will be the result, with thanks to the ever continued policies of the Country Town Weeklies.

ASSAULTS UTILITIES COMMISSION

Dr. Stewart, member for Lethbridge delivered a severe criticism in the house recently against the Public Utilities commission, which in the opinion of the large majority of people was well timed and very much to the point. He said the government should suspend the order of the Public Utilities commissioners granting an advance of gas rates from 35 to 53 cents and have the courts decide as to whether the board has the power to set aside franchise agreements which received statutory ratification in the Legislature years ago. Further he added, "No board should have the power to supersede the legislature and set aside agreements between the people and Corporations. I went on to say in all seriousness that as a result of the decision in the gas rate, the people in Southern Alberta have lost all confidence in the Utilities Commission as a protection of the individual against Corporation." The doctor is quite right, the people have no further confidence in the Utilities Commission and they look to the legislature for protection against the encroachments of grasping corporations.

WHEAT POOL IS FUNCTIONING

Cheques for $25,000,000, constituting a second payment of 35 cents a bushel on grain handled by the Western wheat pool, were sent out to prairie farmers on Saturday, February 28. This makes $1.35 a bushel the pool farmers have already received. Another payment is yet to come. In spite of the dark broodings of antagonists on the prairies, the wheat pool is functioning—and functioning successfully.

And the reason it so functions—and will continue to function—is because it is fundamentally sound in principle. Mass production and mass selling have established American industry on the top of the world. Mass selling at point of consumption, the principle of the pool, will give agriculture the same advantage that industry has gained for itself in the past 20 years. Co-operative marketing is one of the factors that will eventually end the exploitation of Canada by the more highly organized interests of the world.

A bill was introduced in Texas State legislature to bar Athletes as teachers.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY

Further developments in the research work at the University of Alberta, have recently been revealed. Dr. J. B. Collip, co-discoverer of insulin, at a recent meeting in Washington of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, read a paper dealing with a new and important discovery, extracting from the parathyroid gland a substance of great medicinal value. In this connection the following facts have been made known: A considerable number of physiologists and biochemists have been for a number of years working on the parathyroid gland in the hope they might extract from it the substance which it was believed to contain which would have a regulatory effect in connection with certain diseases. Last October, after intensive work and study, Dr. Collip succeeded in getting out this substance which, as experiments proved, has the same relation to the calcium content in the blood as insulin has to the sugar content. After exhaustive tests, Dr. Collip proved the efficacy of the extract thus made on animals. Later he reported to the Canadian Medical Journal a very remarkable result from the application of it in the case of tetany in a child who was brought into the laboratory in a very rigid condition and who was immediately relieved by the use of the material. At present the clinic effect of the material is being tested by some of the leading clinicians on the North American continent, including those at the University of Alberta, McGill University, University of Toronto, Manitoba University, and Johns Hopkins University. The material, for the purpose is being supplied from the University of Alberta laboratories.

REMOVAL OF SETTLERS

The removal of settlers from the drought area in the south-eastern part of the province, initiated last fall by special arrangements between the provincial government, the railways and the federal land settlement board, is still proceeding. About 600 families have now been removed from the dry districts to other parts of the province. Some 75 families have gone into irrigated districts. The settlers removed are permitted their own choice of location, but every opportunity and encouragement has been given to go to irrigated districts if they so desire. This has been particularly the case in connection with the Lethbridge Northern irrigation district at least to the extent to which land has been available in that district, and a number of families have been located there. Many of the settlers removed were located west and north of Lethbridge along the Crow's Nest, Macleod and Alderside lines, while many others went farther north in the province.

RACE TRACK BETTING EVIL

Here in Alberta the track betting evil is not known to many of us, and as a result the movement against it in Ontario cannot be understood. The handbook evil which has grown up in Ontario with the growth of the race tracks is held to be responsible by police officers for many serious crimes, particularly defalcations by employees in positions of trust. Last year legislation aiming at the menace passed the House of Commons but the Senate rejected it. Here is the view of a race track promoter long associated with the "bookies" on racetrack betting and his admission should convince even the Senate that there is real need for legislation. "Betting on the horses—on the race track or off it—is a losing proposition. It is a game the public cannot beat. Once, twice, or oftener, the bettor may win, but if he follows the game day in and day out he will always end a loser. An occasional bet for the sport and for the thrill of it, the human desire to back one's judgment, is all right, in my judgment, providing a fellow risks his own money and can afford it, but the individual who persistently follows the game to make money is sure to end a loser. That kind of thing has only one finish—the loser's end."

The Ontario Government shows a deficit for 1924 of over $8,000,000 and Alberta only $620,000. It will be recalled that the province lost $400,000 by the federal government disallowing the mineral tax act.

LIGHTS THAT PASS

Once in awhile, as we jog along, Carelessly scanning the passing throng Our attention is held by a deed, or word, That falls from the lips, and is lightly heard, Yet sticks in our memory and rings in our ears, And acts as a gauge in coming years, By which we will measure the two lives of men, And reckon their deeds by the echo again.

By H.A.S.

CANADIAN AIR FORCE

Great Britain will spend $180,000,000 this year on increasing her air force. There is something in this to make Canadians think. This country has an area of 3,730,000 square miles and a proportionate coast line. Britain has an area of only 81,279 square miles with a small coast line. If Britain thinks it worth while to spend $180,000,000 on air defences for Britain alone, what should Canada spend? In the past we depended on Britain's navy for our protection but an air fleet in England will not be any protection for Canada. What we must do is to plan our own defence based on power in the air. Canada cannot view their present unprotected condition with any degree of equanimity. Meanwhile the Canada Air Force should be strengthened and supported.

The publicity Commissioners of Alberta are sending out very excellent reports to the press of Alberta which is fully appreciated and given space in the average weekly newspapers. In our opinion the reports are very accurate and interesting and without a touch of political bias. We trust the government will continue the service. It is good business.

AUCTION SALE

To be held at the Farm of C. S. Noble, one mile East of Nobleford, Alberta, on Wednesday, March 18th at 12 noon sharp.

140 HORSES 140One Registered Holstein BullALSO SOME FARM EQUIPMENT

IN addition to the 90 Horses advertised on the safe bills posted, I am now instructed to offer another 50 head or 140 horses. These horses were at right prices during the winter, very carefully selected and bought for this large Spring Sale, and they can now be had reasonably. They are the good quiet disposition kind, very different to many of those sold on this same farm last year, and all are ready for hard work. From this large selection you will be able to choose just the kind you need, either single to mate what you have, or in well-matched teams.

70 Horses—are from 5 to 7 years old and weigh from 1850 to 1600 lbs. All of these have worked at least a season and are well-broken.

45 Horses—are 4 to 6 years old and weigh from 1300 to 1500 lbs. These have all been carefully broken and handled during the winter, and will, while doing a good summer's work develop in a way that many of them should double in value, and be convertible into cash any time. It is doubtful if money can be safer invested in any thing to-day than in these quiet young horses.

25 Horses—are from 8 to 14 years old and weigh from 1300 to 1700 lbs. These are the strong dependable kind that will help you get the work done at the right time and at little cost, and the kind that can be used so well with more young horses.

HORSES—Comparatively are the cheapest farm equipment we have, and a large percent of losses, and even many crop failures can be at least indirectly traced to work having been done out of season and all for the want of more cheap power.

Our land for fallow that has been early plowed, plowed and cultivated, often produces from 20 to 40% more wheat than land worked later and this can mean 100% more profit or even represent all of the profit. Mr. Noble realizing this, and with most of his land for 1925 crop already seeded to the new M. 22 Karkhoff winter wheat, will start his fallow as soon as the frost is out, and will use all 12 horse teams and four furrow John Deere Plows.

Harness—At the Sale one of these complete outfits together with the Shandona hitch will be arranged to show a very simple, but durable and suitable farm Harness, newly made to order by the Great West Saddlery of Calgary. This harness will be supplied at small cost to any one purchasing Horses.

DIVING INTO SPACE

Thrilling Experiences of High River Flying Officer at School of Instruction for Use of Parachute

With her two mighty engines roaring out a deafening chorus the big bombing-type airplane climbs steadily. The indicator points to an altitude of nearly 5,000 feet. Far below a speck on the distant world marks the flying field. Over to the right, slightly lower, another big machine is climbing. "How about it?" asks the pilot, his words lost in the rush of air that is screaming by at more than 100 miles an hour. "The young man in the passenger seat understands without hearing. He stands up, gives a hitch to the queer knapsack that is strapped to the small of his back. Then, headfirst, he dives into the empty air.

Such scenes as this are enacted daily at the Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., where flying men are trained in the use of a recently developed parachute that is being adopted as standard equipment for aeroplanes of the Canadian air service.

In learning the use of these parachutes, the officers are called upon to dive from machines at varying heights. In order to use the new parachute properly, it is necessary to leave the plane headfirst. To the average man the idea of this is enough to give him a funny feeling in the midriff. A western air pilot who saw service in the war and is now attached to the High River air station, is attending this course of instruction at Rantoul. It is understood that he will instruct his brother officers in the use of these new parachutes this summer.

In a graphic letter to a friend in Calgary he describes his experience in the following way:

"At last I am able to write you and tell you what it feels like to be suspended in space, with nothing between me and the earth but a twenty-four foot diameter parachute. "I have to date made three separate jumps, and have got a different kick out of each of them. The first time I jumped I went over the side from the rear cockpit and, because I was anxious to make a showy first jump, waited about three seconds after jumping before pulling the cord that releases the parachute. "When I was ready to pull the cord I received a surprise, which was mild to say the least of it, to find that I could not locate the rip-cord. Believe me, I spent a very busy second or two before I finally found it. After that I wasted no time in releasing the parachute and then I began falling to float down to earth at a more reasonable rate. I had been falling before that at I don't know how many feet a second, but it was sure fast enough. I left the ship at 2,500 feet.

"The second jump I made was a similar one, except that instead of jumping with hands free. I held the cord until I had fallen far enough to suit myself, then simply pulled it and opened the parachute. "It is a very comfortable falling, as one has absolutely no conception of a drop through space, but just a nice feeling of comfort, resting on a cushion of air. But, until the chute does open with a jerk one is falling very quickly and it is with a sense of relief that one feels the pull on the harness that indicates the chute is open.

"My last jump, which will be the last one I make here, was a 'pull-off' carried out from the top of the upper wing of a single-engine D. H. machine, such as we use at High River. Two of us took up positions on either side on the upper wings, holding on by means of a short rope. We left the ground this way. When the machine reached 2,000 feet the pilot gave the signal and I stood up on the wing, pulled the rip-cord and waited for the parachute to open and pull me clear of the ship. "The pilot was supposed at the instance of my leaving, to kick the rudder, thus swinging the tail out of direction of my line of flight. But he did not do this at the critical moment, and, as a result, I hit the tail-plane with my shoulder, bruising myself and breaking the leading edge of the tail-plane. Fortunately, the chute blew past the tail without catching, or there would have been a very fine entanglement, which might have made it necessary for both pilot and passenger to leave the plane and trust to the parachute. "I would have been more or less alright anyway, if I were not injured, for during the trial jumps we all wear two parachutes. If the first had been damaged I could have released the second and made a safe landing. "Still, it was full of 'kick' while it lasted.

"In the same jump I was signalled off at the wrong time and landed among the camp buildings, only six feet from the side of a house. Everybody was afraid that I was going to land among the high tension wires but I was more concerned in the possibility of landing on a high roof and being pulled off by the parachute in the wind. Fortunately none of these things happened, and, while landing on a gravel road is not exactly so soft as landing on a feather bed, I was safe and unhurt. So that's that."

MARKET REPORT

A Resume of Market Conditions as Published by Market Examiner

Beef—Receipts not heavy at Calgary and prices steady on steers and females slightly higher. Choice heavy steers $6.25@6.75; choice light $6@6.60; good $5.25@5.75; medium $4@4.50; common $2@3. Choice heifers $5.25@5.75; good $3.50@4. Choice cows $4.25@4.75; good $3.50@4; medium $3.25@3.50; common $2.50@3.25; canners $1.25@2. Choice Bulls up to $3; medium $1.75@2.25; canners $1.25@1.50. Calves, veal $5@6.25; common $2.25@4.50. Feeders, Stockers—Market demand somewhat slack, with prices unchanged; feeders up to $4.75; others down to $3.75; stockers $2.50@3.50; stock heifers $2@3.25; stock cows $2@3.

Hogs—Calgary market strengthening during the week and though no sales, price on thick smooths, off cars, $11.35; bacon 10 p.c. premium.

Sheep—Calgary sales very light, but good fat stuff would sell well; lambs nominally quoted around $14; wethers $11 and ewes $8.50.

Grain—There is very little use in saying much about the grain market, for even those who think they know most about it, are just as far astray as anybody else. However, the market is keeping up well and there does not seem to be much doubt but that it will continue to do so. Wheat pool grain will be paid after March 16 on a basis of $1.35, 1 Nor., Fort William. Second interim payment of 35c per bushel being made now.

Cream—Receipts showing some increase, but not heavy; all prices in Alberta. Creamery Butter—Prices unchanged, but owing to limited outside demand creameries are depending on local consumption to take care of most of surplus; when that gets too large to absorb, it looks like lower prices. Dairy Butter—Most of it sold at country points. Cheese—Market firm for good grade and advanced 2c off grades not doing so well.

Eggs—Prices dropping 5 cts. on all grades today at Calgary, which brings market line with other southern points but they are likely to go off still more, and with prospects of spring weather now the price will be an uncertain factor for the next few weeks; do not hold eggs at present. Poultry—No market now for turkeys, geese or ducks, and larger dealers do not want them. Fowl holds firm and prices up a little on live birds.

Potatoes—Market somewhat easier this week and Calgary deliveries range from $38@40; eastern potatoes selling for $42 at Calgary. Seed potatoes in Lethbridge district being bought at good prices, said to be for distribution from Calgary.

Hay—Enquiries still coming to dealers regarding hay, but volume of business through Calgary not very heavy; active shipping from all districts where supplies are offered. Prices unchanged, but tone of market not as strong as week or more ago.

Hides—Tanners appear to be fairly well stocked and the springy condition of most hides now, combine for low prices. Dealers warn shippers to use salt now on all hides.

Furs—Winnipeg auction next week has a large offering; trade look for prices to hold fairly steady.

HOSPITALS HAVE SURPLUSES

Alberta rural municipal hospitals have come through the past year in excellent financial condition, as shown by the reports of some of these institutions referred to from time to time in this bulletin. The latest reports come from the hospitals at Athabasca which has a cash balance after all expenses of maintenance and operation and debenture payments have been met. The same is true also of the hospital at Cardston which will have a balance of about $3,000 in the bank.

Actual Deficit of Alberta Less than Estimated Deficit. Expenditures Less than Expected.

The public accounts of the province for 1924 were presented to the Legislature during the past week by Hon. R. G. Reid, Provincial Treasurer. The accounts are the first to be presented since the new system of accounting went into effect, and are based on the new system. The accounts are also accompanied by a consolidated balance sheet showing the exact financial standing of the province to the end of 1923. This balance sheet analyzes the finances of the province from the beginning of 1905. The actual deficit of the province on income account for 1924 was $620,841.42 or $38,166.67 less than the estimated deficit at the beginning of the year. The actual expenditures in 1924 were less than the estimated expenditures by $583,785.52, after allowing for expenditures on warrants. The actual revenue during the year fell short of the estimated revenue by $545,718.49. The expenditures by departments were as follows:

EAST'S COAL ORDER

"The movement of 100,000 tons of Alberta coal to Ontario advances the hope of a market in the province," remarked R. M. Young, commissioner of the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association, on Thursday, March 5, when shown a Toronto dispatch that Premier Ferguson had stated in the legislature arrangements had been made to bring that quantity of coal to Ontario on May 1. Mr. Young said if the report was authentic it was a confirmation of the preliminary announcement made on February 23 by Premier Greenfield in Edmonton after an interview with Hon. Charles Stewart.

Mr. Greenfield and Howard Stutchbury, trade commissioner for Alberta, had been working for some considerable time to secure the movement of 100,000 tons to Ontario.

"This is the largest tonnage that has been arranged for so far from Alberta to Ontario," said Mr. Young, "and it should be possible after its movement to arrive at a definite cost of transportation. Whether this will result in the establishment of a rate to Ontario which shall enable the West to look upon that province as a permanent market for our domestic coal will be a question that can only be determined later."

Mr. Young said that if Premier Ferguson were correctly quoted, the railways have so far made no change in their tariff, which stood at $12.70 per ton. The shipment presumably was to arrive on the basis of protection by the federal government to the railway company of any loss sustained in moving the coal. That was still a long way from the putting effect of a satisfactory rate, and in the past the railways had made it clear to the operators that a reduction of production costs must be the preliminary of any permanent reduction of transportation rates. The Commissioner pointed out that the present order of 100,000 tons if distributed on the same basis as past orders from Ontario would go largely to the Drumheller-Wayne field. It would not, in itself, however, amount to more than from one week to ten days operation. "Naturally you think it is the forerunner of a larger tonnage," said Mr. Young, "but in lieu of the factors of transportation and production costs that are still to be overcome it would be premature to regard it as guaranteeing anything more than its face value indicates."

The Record Oil Well north-west of High River has been taken over by the Mid. City Oil Co., Ltd. They will operate the property when spring comes.

From actual figures submitted by the owners themselves, it is carefully estimated that at least 175,000 head of sheep will be shorn in the Southern Alberta territory this season. At an average of 6 pounds per fleece that means approximately 1,000,000 pounds of range type wool from growers in that district.

Alberta now has a total railway mileage of 4,822 miles, compared with 1,060 in 1905 and 4,097 in 1915, according to the annual reports of the provincial railways department presented to the Legislature. Of this mileage the C.P.R. operates 2,009 miles, the Canadian National 1,974 miles, the E. D. and B.C. 423 miles, the A. and G. W. 282 miles, the Central Canada 48 miles and the Lacombe and Northwestern 49 miles. Forty-four miles of new line were built during the year of which the C.P.R. built 15, the E.D. and B.C. Grande Prairie branch 15, the Central Canada, Peace River line 13, and the C.N.R. 1 mile. The E. D. and B.C. extensions built by the provincial government to Wembley cost $378,843, or about $31,000 less than the estimated cost. The extensions to the Central Canada cost $305,978, or $25,000 less than estimated. The operation of the A. and G.W. line showed improved financial condition over 1923 to the extent of $42,504 owing to slightly increased revenues and decreased costs of operation. The vote of $184,000 for maintenance operation and construction on this line was not used. On the Lacombe line there was a slight deficit on the year's operations of $772. The appropriation of $20,000 for maintenance, operation and construction on this line was only one-quarter used.

Seventy dollars an acre, the peak price in several years, was paid by a Belgian for a quarter section of unimproved land near Edmonton. Belgians are buying considerable farm property in this district. A syndicate from that country has purchased Kenneth McLeod's 300-acre farm, six miles west of Edmonton, for $20,000.

A successful season in 1924 is reported by the United Irrigated District in the vicinity of Lethbridge. The District Trustees have met their obligations for the year and have a balance in the bank. The average value per acre of the production on the project last year was $29.13, taking into account crops both on irrigated and non-irrigated lands in the district.

According to statements made by men who visited No. 4 Royalty well at Black Diamond, there is being produced 300 barrels of gasoline every day. The flow of wet gas at the wells does not diminish and much gasoline is being lost at present as a great portion of the gas escapes. It is the intention of the company to increase the oil production by adopting plans whereby the greater portion of the gas escaping can be saved. It is said the company will proceed with the drilling of other wells, but of this no declaration has been made by officials. No. 4 well is a real producer of gasoline and brings in a big revenue to the owners.

Neils Olsen, manager of the Bar U ranch, west of High River, died on Wednesday morning at the High River hospital, following a brief illness from pneumonia. His wife is in the same hospital, also suffering from pneumonia, and is in a critical condition. The deceased is an old timer in the province and had been connected with the ranch for the last 25 years. He was fifty years of age and leaves four children, as well as his wife, to mourn his loss. The late Mr. Olsen became ill last week and was admitted to the hospital on Friday. His wife, wishing to be with him, accompanied him to the institution, and a day or two later contracted the same disease. She is so seriously ill that it has been considered advisable not to notify her of her husband's death.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS

Four districts on the Lethbridge division have reached and exceeded the million bushel mark in grain marketing. These are Vulcan, High River, Nanton and Cardston. Half a dozen other premier grain-raising sections of the south are climbing steadily toward the million bushel class, but thus far they have failed to reach the coveted goal. According to figures released on Saturday last at the general offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway, grain marketed on the division to March 1 amounts to more than 22,500,000 bushels. It is believed there are stocks still held by the farmers in their bins to make up the two and a half million bushels needed to bring the total crop up to the 25,000,000 bushels predicted last fall. The amount of wheat shipped is 19,759,000 bushels and in store 1,464,000 bushels. Shipments of other grains exceed 1,359,000 and in store 330,000 bushels. The total number of cars of grain handled on the division up to March 1 is 13,698. Heavy shipping points follow:

Alberta dairymen are going to try to produce 25,000,000 pounds of butter this year. In 1901 the production was 406,000 pounds and last year it had risen to 21,500,000 pounds.

Very unsettled weather has been the rule the past week. Two veritable blizzards has touched this point, one the early part of the week and another on Wednesday, both of which were accompanied with winds and snow, the latter proving to be one of the heaviest snow storms of the year, which has blocked traffic on the different trails by its wake of drifts. The weather has not been severely cold, however, some degrees below zero being reported, but this has been followed by milder conditions. At the present writing, with the storm over, it is fast becoming clear and mild again. The snow is welcome as it will provide additional moisture. The frost is not out of the ground as yet however and large fields of water are standing on the surface, in all directions. The results of the snow storms will be somewhat beneficial with a change to warm conditions. They are a forecast of plenty of moisture in the future. The grain market has been very erratic for the past week; one day showing a drop of over 12 points in wheat. This was quickly followed with an advance of about 6 points, when another drop occurred with the present tendency upwards. The present nature of instability of the market is perhaps the result of foreign grains flooding the markets at the present time to take advantage of the high prices prevailing. Argentine had about 90,000,000 bushels of exportable wheat and about all of this is now in the holds of boats at different points, more of their wheat being in this status than ever in their life before. Their surplus, and that of other wheat growing countries, being thrown into the market at one time and sold at a lower price than the Canadian grain, is no doubt the cause of the present unsteadiness in prices. The effect should be of a temporary nature but prices can be expected to be erratic and lower until this condition is cleaned up. On account of the storms of the past week and the poor consequent conditions of the trails, the elevators here are comparatively quiet. The local prices quoted are: Wheat $1.64; Oats 38c; Barley 66c; and Rye 1.19.

The Salada Tea Company has just been sustained in a judgment rendered February 16th, 1925, by the Exchequer Court of Canada, in its suit against a firm which placed on the market a blend of tea with a label so closely copied from the distinctive and well known "Salada" label that almost any buyer could have been deceived.

The deficit for the fiscal year 1924 for the province of Ontario was $8,468,764 as against $15,195,226 in 1923. By imposing a gasoline and beverage tax and cutting down expenditure, the government hopes to reduce the deficit to $3,000,000. Considering the above the people of Alberta have reason to feel gratified that the deficit this year is as small as it is.
